Caring Workspaces: Civil Society and Social Enterprises

We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. 20 teachers and prospective teachers attended the workshop. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

We conducted the Conference "The Politics of Art and Identity" in the Caring Workplaces project. This project is a pilot project supported by the RESISTIRÉ (R ESponding to outbreaks through co-creative sustainable inclusive education) EU Horizon 2020 research project. We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. We conducted the workshop for 20 teachers and prospective teachers. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13
Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13. Evren Savcı will present her book “Queer in Translation: Sexual Politics under Neoliberal Islam” at an online event on Thursday, October 13 between 17.00-18.30. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will be organized via SU Gender’s social media accounts and e-mail groups.

Events and seminars next month

Derya Özge Acar will be visiting a hosting university at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, Deniz Gündoğan Ibrişim will be a visiting scholar at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, and Özge Acar will give an online lecture on Feminist Narrative at the Feminist Research Methodologies and Digital Feminist Research Conference, Workshops, and Panels

The application deadline for this year’s Şirin Tekeli Research Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Şirin Tekeli Research Award is an annual award grant by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Application Deadline for Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award Extended

The application deadline for this year’s Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award is an annual award given by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Application Deadline for Şirin Tekeli Research Award Extended

The application deadline for this year’s Şirin Tekeli Research Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Şirin Tekeli Research Award is an annual award grant by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Which Events Did We Attend?

We attended the workshop “Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art” mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. The workshop was held in the Caring Workplaces project. This project is a pilot project supported by the RESISTIRÉ (R ESponding to outbreaks through co-creative sustainable inclusive education) EU Horizon 2020 research project. The workshop was focused on the fields of academic literature, gender equality, and feminist Politics.Policy.society. The event included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13
Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13. Evren Savcı will present her book “Queer in Translation: Sexual Politics under Neoliberal Islam” at an online event on Thursday, October 13 between 17.00-18.30. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will be organized via SU Gender’s social media accounts and e-mail groups.

What's Next Month?

We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. 20 teachers and prospective teachers attended the workshop. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

We conducted the Conference "The Politics of Art and Identity" in the Caring Workplaces project. This project is a pilot project supported by the RESISTIRÉ (R ESponding to outbreaks through co-creative sustainable inclusive education) EU Horizon 2020 research project. We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. We conducted the workshop for 20 teachers and prospective teachers. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13
Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13. Evren Savcı will present her book “Queer in Translation: Sexual Politics under Neoliberal Islam” at an online event on Thursday, October 13 between 17.00-18.30. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will be organized via SU Gender’s social media accounts and e-mail groups.

Events and seminars next month

Derya Özge Acar will be visiting a hosting university at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, Deniz Gündoğan Ibrişim will be a visiting scholar at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, and Özge Acar will give an online lecture on Feminist Narrative at the Feminist Research Methodologies and Digital Feminist Research Conference, Workshops, and Panels

The application deadline for this year’s Şirin Tekeli Research Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Şirin Tekeli Research Award is an annual award grant by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Application Deadline for Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award Extended

The application deadline for this year’s Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Dicle Koçtuğlu Article Award is an annual award given by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Application Deadline for Şirin Tekeli Research Award Extended

The application deadline for this year’s Şirin Tekeli Research Award has been extended until October 10th at 18.00. Click here for detailed information about the application requirements. The Şirin Tekeli Research Award is an annual award grant by SU Gender with the support of SU Gender, the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, and the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism. This program is inspired by a committee decision by our colleague, friend, and sociologist Dicle Koçtuğlu while she was pursuing her PhD in Turkey. The award aims to open to Master’s and PhD students, and graduates of literature programs who completed their degree within the last two years.

Which Events Did We Attend?

We attended the workshop “Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art” mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. The workshop was held in the Caring Workplaces project. This project is a pilot project supported by the RESISTIRÉ (R ESponding to outbreaks through co-creative sustainable inclusive education) EU Horizon 2020 research project. The workshop was focused on the fields of academic literature, gender equality, and feminist Politics.Policy.society. The event included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13
Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13. Evren Savcı will present her book “Queer in Translation: Sexual Politics under Neoliberal Islam” at an online event on Thursday, October 13 between 17.00-18.30. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will be organized via SU Gender’s social media accounts and e-mail groups.

What's Next Month?

We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. 20 teachers and prospective teachers attended the workshop. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

We conducted the Conference "The Politics of Art and Identity" in the Caring Workplaces project. This project is a pilot project supported by the RESISTIRÉ (R ESponding to outbreaks through co-creative sustainable inclusive education) EU Horizon 2020 research project. We organized the workshop "Expanding Our Fields of Expression Through Expressive Art" mediated by Aylin Vartanyan on September 21st. We conducted the workshop for 20 teachers and prospective teachers. After an introduction to the theory of expressive art, participants carried out applied and participatory activities. This workshop also aims to ensure a more gender-sensitive and inclusive school environment. The workshop included a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will take place in English.

Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13
Online Book Event with Evren Savcı will take place on October 13. Evren Savcı will present her book “Queer in Translation: Sexual Politics under Neoliberal Islam” at an online event on Thursday, October 13 between 17.00-18.30. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session and a discussion of the book. The event will be organized via SU Gender’s social media accounts and e-mail groups.

Events and seminars next month

Derya Özge Acar will be visiting a hosting university at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, Deniz Gündoğan Ibrişim will be a visiting scholar at the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan, and Özge Acar will give an online lecture on Feminist Narrative at the Feminist Research Methodologies and Digital Feminist Research Conference, Workshops, and Panels